The Open Bible Bulletin is published monthly and has a sevenfold purpose: 1. To present sound Biblical teaching. 2. To generate interest in missionary work around the world. 3. To emphasize the imperative of personal evangelism. 4. To explore current issues that may detrimentally affect the Christian church. 5. To keep friends posted on staff, student and school activities and needs. 6. To stimulate earnest, believing prayer for New Brunswick Bible Institute. 7. To declare the grace of God through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Open Bible Bulletin

The Word of Hope in the New Millennium

VOL. 51 NO. 3 MARCH 2010

Most Bible commentators believe that the seven churches in Revelation 2 and 3 were actual churches in Asia. Not only did they have messages to be applied to the church universal and local, but God, through John, was also instructing us regarding the history of the church. The first church mentioned, Ephesus, refers to the first century church. If each subsequent church logically follows history, then Laodicea in Revelation 3:14-22 describes the present day church.

From verse 14, we must understand that throughout history, and in these "perilous times" (II Timothy 3:1), Christ is faithful and true and He is the accurate Witness to the past, present and future. No matter how difficult times are, how poorly we conduct ourselves, or how cold the church gets, Christ is faithful and gracious.

How did God view this church at Laodicea?

First, He said it was "lukewarm." It certainly wasn't "hot" (on fire) for God and it wasn't "cold." It was best characterized by being a nauseous "lukewarm." I can't think of any time when a lukewarm drink would be satisfying. Is the way that we worship and the heart with which we conduct ourselves, self-gratifying or God-gratifying, and does the world see in us and our churches the answer to their deep, longing thirst? Every local church should be notorious in their community, that is, notorious for their unity and notorious for their love both for one another and for the lost. Isn't this what Christ meant when He said, "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another" in John 13:35.

THE LAODICEAN CHURCH

Second, He said the Laodicean church was "lacking." In verse 17, it seems that they didn't realize their greatest need which was a spiritual need. As today, their offering plates were full but they were spiritually destitute. The preaching and teaching of the Word of God must be prepared, predominant and passionate so that the Spirit of God will apply it to the hearts of His people and cause us to be Christlike. Our every need is addressed and supplied by Christ and His Word. In verse 18, He said the answer to their need was testing fire, holiness and yieldedness to the Holy Spirit.

school or institution, that Christ always is the focus of our worship, teaching and reason to exist.

If we are now living in a Laodicean-like era, then may we sincerely determine to be faithful, to represent Christ well, and to allow Him pre-eminence in the church.

Each year, one of my favourite things to witness is the music groups forming and learning to minister to people using the gifts and abilities God has given them. As music director, I have the great privilege of auditioning all the new students and a few of the returning students to see what vocal and musical talents are hiding within. This year, we have put together three groups that will be traveling with our staff to minister in song to churches in the Maritime Provinces and the New England States.

As they practice a minimum of four hours a week, these groups are seeking to better themselves to be able to minister to the best of their ability to the glory of God. Over 50 churches and Christian schools will be hearing them throughout this school year and as they travel for two weeks after graduation. Please come out and see us if we are in your area. You can find our tour dates and locations by looking on our "On the road" calender. If you would like a music group in your home church please contact us at 1-506-375-9000.

Please pray for each of these students as they try and balance school work and ministry throughout this year. Hope to see you at some of these outings.

Our seventh annual Men for God Rally was a huge success with approximately 340 in attendance. Our speaker, Dr. Michael Loftis, President of ABWE encouraged us to be Battle Ready Men.

President's Challenge...

THE DISCIPLINED CHRISTIAN LIFE

To fully follow the Lord Jesus Christ as a genuine disciple will require a spiritually disciplined Christian life. Jesus called His disciples to follow Him, forsake all and bear their cross daily by denying themselves.

Living for Christ in this godless world, controlled by satanic forces and dwelling in bodies cursed by sin and the sin nature, will demand complete surrender to the Holy Spirit and the divine nature given to us through salvation. Any hope of victory or success in holy living, holy worship and holy service will require commitment, dedication and consecration to spiritual discipline.

Self-discipline is a worthy ideal when it is achieved with a sincere, humble heart. Many people have become self-disciplined by force of character, inherited traits, influence of personality, structured programs, leadership, etc. We must however be aware that ungodly people can also be very self-disciplined. We must not allow the apex of human discipline be the goal of our Christian lives, no matter how impressive it looks.

Supervised discipline is needed in all aspects of society whether the home, school, church, work place, nation, etc. Supervised discipline refers to those in leadership using regulations, rules, guidelines, etc. in mandating forms of behaviour for the good of individuals and groups of people.

I suppose, if we lived in a perfect world, full of perfect people, we would not need supervised discipline. Heaven will be such a place! Until then, we need the directives of those in leadership to help promote order, structure and efficiency among people groups and to guard against a form of life lived at the lowest form of accountability and carelessness. Supervised discipline cannot however bring people to the pinnacle of accomplishment. There must be something better.

Spiritual discipline is alluded to in Galatians 5:22-23 as temperance. This word means "strength of control." It refers to the influence of the Holy Spirit upon the mind and will of a believer so that he or she determines and chooses to live, act and serve in a way that is most Christlike.

I Timothy 4:7-8 speaks of exercising your self to godliness for the sake of your present life, future reward and for the glory of our great Saviour. Exercise speaks of gymnastics, the training and discipline of your inner and outer man to achieve spiritual heights of victory, service and character.

The Word of God, the example of Christ and the lives of holy people, of past and present days, should motivate us to reach for the highest level of Christian living.

When we yield to the Holy Spirit and give our members as instruments of righteousness in obedience, we will rise to a level beyond self or supervised discipline. Spiritual discipline must be the ultimate goal for ourselves and those we influence.
